Financiers Plead For Removal of Tariff Barriers

Half Dozen American Financiers Headed By J. P. Morgan Sign Manifesto For Removal of Tariff Barriers Upon European Trade.

New York, Oct. 19 (AP).—A remarkable plea for removal of the tariff barriers and other restrictions upon European trade was issued here today, over the signatures of scores of the leading financiers of Europe and a half dozen Americans headed by J. P. Morgan.

There can be no recovery in Europe, the manifesto declares, until the politicians realize that "in time of peace our neighbors are our customers and that their prosperity is a condition of our own well-being."

The text of the manifesto follows in part.

"We desire, as business men, to draw attention to certain grave and disquieting conditions which, in our judgment, are retarding the return to prosperity.

"It is difficult to view without dismay the extent to which tariff barriers, special license and prohibitions since the war have been allowed to interfere with international trade and to prevent it from flowing in its natural channels. At no period in recent history has freedom from such restrictions been needed to enable traders to adapt themselves to new and difficult conditions. And at no period have impediments to trading been more perilously multiplied without a true apprehension of the economic consequences involved.

"The breakup of great political units in Europe dealt a heavy blow to international trade. Across large areas, in which the inhabitants had been allowed to exchange their products freely, a number of new frontiers were erected and jealously guarded by customs barriers. Old markets disappeared. Racial animosities were permitted to divide communities whose interests were inseparably connected. The situation is not unlike that which would be created if a confederation of states were to dissolve the ties which bind them, and to proceed to penalize and hamper instead of encouraging each other's trade. Few will doubt that under such conditions the prosperity of such a country would rapidly decline.

Trade Is Not War.

"There can be no recovery in Europe until politicians in all territories, old and new, realize that trade is not war but a process of exchange, that in time of peace our neighbors are our customers, and that their prosperity is a condition of our own well-being. If we check their dealings, their power to pay their debts diminishes, and their power to purchase our goods is reduced. Restricted imports involve restricted exports, and no nation can afford to lose its export trade dependent as we all are upon imports and exports, and upon the processes of international exchange, we cannot view without grave concern a policy which means the impoverishment of Europe.

"Happily there are signs that opinion in all countries is awakening at last to the dangers ahead. The League of Nations and the International Chamber of Commerce have been laboring to reduce to a minimum all formalities, prohibitions and restrictions, to remove inequalities of treatment in other matters than tariffs, to facilitate the transportation of passengers and goods. In some countries powerful voices are pleading for the suspension of tariffs altogether. Others have suggested the conclusion for long periods of commercial agreements embodying in every case the most favored nation clause."

American Signers.

The document was signed in addition to Mr. Morgan by the following Americans: Gates W. McGarrath, New York banker; J. J. Mitchell, president of the Illinois Merchants' Trust Company; Chicago; Thomas N. Perkins of Boston; Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National Bank of Chicago; and Albert H. Wiggin, president of the Chase National Bank of New York.

ADOPTS FIVE DAY WEEK WITH SIX DAYS' PAY

Oakland, Cal. Oct. 19 (AP).—The "five day week with six days' pay" has reached the Pacific coast. David Crowley, general manager of the Crowley Shipbuilding Company, today announced that he is preparing to put the new plan into effect in the shipyard in Oakland, where the company employs approximately 200 men.

"It is almost impossible for workmen to get started on Saturday before they have to knock off for the day," Crowley said. "Therefore they might just as well have the whole day off."

Stole Gas, Lighted Match, Started Fire, Jailed

John Clarke, Negro, Fined $25 and Joe Murallo, Italian, Jailed for 60 Days—Out of Gas, They Helped Themselves and Set Auto Truck on Fire.

John Clarke, a negro, and Joe Murallo, an Italian, were arrested following the setting on fire of a Ford truck owned by Edward Carney which was parked in the rear of Van Amburg's garage on North Front street shortly after 9 o'clock Monday evening. This morning both men were arraigned before Judge Shufeldt in police court charged with petit larceny, when Clarke was fined $25 and Murallo was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail.

From the story as told by both young men to Sergeant Phinney following their arrest Monday night, they had intended going out for a ride in Murallo's Star car which was parked in front of 114½ North Front street, where Murallo lived. They found that the gas tank on the Star car was empty.

Murallo scratched his head a minute when he made the discovery of the empty tank and then turning to John he observed: "Let's go over to Van Amburg's and get some gas out of one of the cars in the back yard."

John was agreeable and they took an empty can out of the Star car and went to the rear of the garage when they found Carney's truck with a tank full of gas. They proceeded to fill the can. As it was dark and the gas did not run freely, Murallo used a small stick to force a freer flow of gas.

When the can was about full Clarke struck a match to see if they had enough gas in the can.

They did, and Murallo stuck his finger over the hole to stop the flow of gas from the truck tank until he put the plug back but the gas squirted from his finger toward John and the lighted match.

There was a sudden flash as the lighted match ignited the gas which communicated to the canful of gas which also began to blaze, setting fire to the forward part of the Ford truck.

Frightened, the two young men dashed out of the back yard and stood on the other side of the street while some one turned in an alarm of fire to which the fire department responded.

Acting Fire Chief Fred Laverich when the fire was extinguished made an investigation and decided that some one had set the truck on fire. He communicated his belief to Sergeant Phinney who made an investigation which led to the arrest of the two young men, who confessed and signed statements of how the fire started.

'Peaches' Has Two Legal Guardians

New York, Oct. 19 (AP).—The 16-year-old bride of wealthy Edward W. Browning today had two legal guardians to counsel her in counter suits for separation.

Her mother, Mrs. Carolyn M. Heenan, was appointed guardian yesterday on the girl's request, 48 hours after N. Otis Rockwood, attorney, was named in Poughkeepsie on application of the 53-year-old husband.

Browning asked appointment of a guardian for his young wife as the first move in a suit for separation on the grounds of desertion. He said his mother-in-law was unfit to be her daughter's guardian.

"Peaches" retorted that her husband's remarks were "mean and vile" in view of the fact that his mother-in-law had gone to a great deal of trouble to make neckties for him, and yesterday filed an affidavit accusing her husband of "cruel and inhuman treatment, and conduct that rendered it unsafe, improper, and dangerous" for her to live with him.

Mrs. Heenan filed an accompanying affidavit in which she declared herself a competent and responsible person, fully capable of protecting her daughter's rights.

McNelis Gets Theatre Contract

Joseph A. McNelis & Co. 277 Fair street this city, are the successful bidders for the electrical work for the New Broadway Theatre located on Broadway and Cedar street. This award was made by Skinner & Cook after a careful consideration of a large number of bids tendered.

The electrical installation of a theatre is of paramount importance and it is gratifying to know that in Kingston there are electrical contractors competent for this part of the theatre work.

Tuesday Dinner at Trinity Church.

Following is the menu: Roast turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, gravy, cabbage salad, creamed onions, celery, cranberries, brown and white bread, cornbread and mince pie, coffee and tea. There will be no sale before and after the dinner, also home-made candy.

Water Is Smith's Chief Concern

Governor Carries Out Threat by Making Water Power One of the Leading Issues of His Campaign.

Hochester, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP).—Governor Smith has carried out a threat made last winter, when his proposal for state development of water power was "defeated" by the Republican legislature to present the subject as one of the leading issues of the fall campaign.

In his address here last night, the governor dealt almost exclusively with water power, after charging that his Republican opponent, Odgen L. Mills, has said nothing about it "outside of some foolish statements not prepared by the candidate himself, but by some satellites of his chief ally."

The reference was to William Randolph Hearst, recently charged by the governor with directing the Republican campaign.

The governor recalled how in 1907 the legislature granted a charter to the Long Sande Development Company, a subsidiary of the Pittsburgh Aluminum Company, to develop power at the Long Sande Rapids in the St. Lawrence River. After the people of the state realized "how they had given away their rights for a song," the governor added, the charter was repealed by a Democratic legislature in 1913.

Practically the same company, the governor charged, 20 years afterward is seeking to obtain development rights for the same section of the river.

Contrasts Colorado Development.

In contrast to the Republican opposition to his water power plan, as set forth in the Republican platform plank favoring "prompt development of water power resources by private capital and management under a system of limited leases," the governor cited what he termed a plan for governmental development of the Colorado river. The project, known as the Boulder Canyon Reclamation, was recommended by a senate investigating committee and approved by the secretaries of the interior, treasury and commerce.

"According to the record," commented the governor, "it would seem to me that there is one policy for the Republican party in dealing with water power projects nationally, and another entirely different policy when it comes to state development of water power."

The governor spoke last night to the largest audience yet gathered on his campaign tour filling to capacity Convention Hall and its large annex.

Justice Robert F. Wagner, speaking at the same place reiterated his attitude toward labor and welfare legislation as against what he termed the record of "reaction and inaction" of Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., his opponent for election to the United States senate. As he concluded, Judge Wagner asserted that Senator Wadsworth was "attempting by straddle and political insincerity, to obtain support of both wads and drvs before election."

Governor Smith and Judge Wagner accompanied by Mrs. Smith and friends and advisors, will continue to Syracuse this afternoon, where another night mass meeting will be held in the Arena where last month the governor was nominated for re-election.

Threw Lighted Lamp at Negro

Benjamin Freeman, a Negro From North Dakota, Finds East More Spacious Than the "Wide Open Spaces"—Is Jailed for Fifteen Days.

Benjamin Freeman, a negro employed on a large ranch in North Dakota, is finding the east far more strenuous than the "wide, open spaces where men are men" out in the glorious west, and will spend fifteen days in the county jail meditating on that subject, having been found guilty of hurling a lighted lamp at another negro, Radcliffe Booker, at Steep Rocks on Sunday night.

Freeman informed the police that on the ranch he was paid $280 a month and worked steadily for eighteen months when all of the men on the ranch were given a ninety days furlough with pay. Some traveled east and some traveled north, some south and some further west to enjoy the wages that they had no time to spend while at work on the ranch.

Dropped $500 in Crap Game.

As for Freeman, he decided that he would like to see something of the east, and so he had heard that the east was more "civilized" than the west he had left his guns on the ranch and came to Kingston with a plentiful bankroll. Since arriving here he dropped about $500 in a crap game.

Sunday night there was a shooting affray at the Dwyer Brothers brickyard which resulted in the arrest of Alexander Downer, a 52 year old negro, charged with shooting Freeman in the hand, and William Sydney, a 33 year old negro, charged with having a revolver in his possession without a license. Both men on Monday demanded hearings and the cases were adjourned by Judge Shufeldt until October 25.

After the adjournment Radcliffe Booker, another negro, lodged a complaint against Freeman, charging him with assault in the third degree in hurling a lighted lamp at him, and after a trial Freeman was found guilty and sentenced to fifteen days in jail by Judge Shufeldt.

Life Filled With Adventure.

Freeman talked freely to the police and said that this was the first time he had ever been shot, although he had been in all kinds of trouble. He claimed he had been unlawfully charged with murder three times in the west and after serving eleven years on the three charges at various intervals he had been pardoned three times. He is also a much married man, according to his own statement, and had no less than four wives.

The next time anyone informs him that the west is wilder and woolier than the east he will receive the statement with a large, very large ounce of salt.

Fine Dixon for Reckless Driving

Calvin Dixon, a negro of East Kingston, was found guilty of reckless driving by Judge Shufeldt in police court today and fined $25.

He was arrested following a collision between his car and that of Joseph Succuma, also of East Kingston, on Sunday on the Flat-bush road near the City Hotel.

Coolidge Doubts If Tariff Changes Can Help Europe

President Says Money Lenders and Those Who Import Naturally Are in Favor of Free Trade—Wage Earners Need Protection.

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP).—President Coolidge, though without special information as to the manifesto asking tariff changes, considers that there is a good deal of difference between the methods and purposes of tariff duties raised by European states and the tariff system of the United States.

Off-hand, the president was said to doubt if much could be done by tariff changes to stimulate European trade without jeopardizing the position of America and its standard of living.

Those who lend money between nations naturally are in favor of practically free trade, it was said at the White House, and the same is true of those who import, whereas, wage earners and manufacturers desire protection.

The President believes the matter to concern more of the European states in that their standards of living do not differ materially, and tariff walls therefore do not have the same effect as in this country.

Whereas the United States receives about $5,000,000,000 in imports annually, it was said that duties are paid on only about $1,500,000,000. Of those imports on which duty is paid the President believes most is levied to obtain revenue rather than for protection.

Other government officials here listened to the appeal with interest, but without comment.

Hermance Wins Verdicts Again

Globe Indemnity Company Failed to Pay Judgments, Which Mr. and Mrs. Hermance Secured Against Brooklyn Man in Auto Accident at Esopus.

A verdict for plaintiffs was found by the jury late Monday afternoon in the actions brought by Louis R. Hermance and Mary L. Hermance, his wife, of Ulster Park, against the Globe Indemnity Company, which were taken up for trial earlier in the day.

A verdict for Mrs. Hermance in the sum of $5,106.94 and a verdict for Mr. Hermance in the sum of $633.53 was found against the insurance company for damages sustained when Mrs. Hermance was injured in a collision between the Kingston-Highland bus and a car alleged to have been driven by Benjamin Seides of New York city, on September 1, 1923. Seides was insured with the Globe Indemnity Company but that company failed to pay judgments secured a year ago in the trial of the actions, claiming that Mr. Seides had not reported the accident as required by the terms of the policy. James Jenkins appeared for plaintiffs and Judge John G. Van Etten and Andrew J. Cook appeared for the company.

Mr. Seides has been identified as the driver of the car and although he contended and still contends that it was not his car which caused the accident, a jury at the May term of Supreme court last year found a verdict for $5,000 for Mrs. Hermance for injuries sustained and a verdict for $500 for Mr. Hermance for loss of services. The verdicts were found against Mr. Seides, John A. DuBois, owner of the bus, who was also a defendant, was exonerated from blame for the accident and a verdict of no cause of action was returned by the jury as against him.

At the time of the trial in May, 1925, although in law it is not permissible to place the fact before the jury, the case was defended by the insurance company through their attorneys.

Company Changes Attitude.

Mr. Seides claims that he was insured with the Globe Indemnity Company and a policy was introduced in evidence Monday. However, the company now takes the stand that the accident was not reported to them within the time limit named in the policy for reporting accidents and that they are therefore not liable for the judgments Mr. Seides, on the other hand, claims that he never had an accident and therefore had no cause to report one to the company until he was served with a summons in the actions. He then notified the company by handing them over the papers.

The company claims that the papers were accepted and an answer was entered in the case by their attorneys but that they at that time did so after reserving all rights in regard to time limit of notification. They entered an answer in the action, but did not waive any rights specified in the policy, pending an investigation of the accident named in the complaint served on Seides.

The company now comes in court and defends the action against it on the grounds that the company was not notified of the accident until long after the time limit expired and that the company cannot be held responsible for the judgments amounting to $5,500.

Two Were Killed in Accident.

The alleged accident with the Seides car caused serious injury to several people who were passengers in the bus and also resulted in the death of two of the occupants. The accident happened on the Saturday preceding Labor Day in 1923. A car which failed to stop in alleged to have cut in and hooked the front wheel of the bus, causing it to strike a tree, along the road. The following Monday Seides was identified at the Highland ferry when he was returning home as the operator of the Buick car which caused the accident. He was taken from line at the time and examined by Corporal Lounsbury of the State Troopers after Mr. Simpson, the driver of the bus, had requested the Trooper to examine him. Certain marks on the Buick were examined at that time and Seides was allowed to proceed. Later an inquest was held and Mr. Seides and Mr. Gordon, who was with him on the trip, were summoned to appear. Mr. Gordon was examined before the coroner but Seides was not questioned. However, Mr. Seides testifies now that after Gordon was examined he told him that he, Seides, was charged with having caused the accident. This examination was about a month after the accident.

Seides Again Denies Accident.

Seides did not notify the company, according to his testimony, until March, 1925, some six months later, when he was served with a complaint. He claims that this was in the action. He claims that this was the first time he knew he was official. He testified Monday that he never had an accident with the bus and therefore had nothing to report to the insurance company until he was served with papers which he turned over to the company.

Judge James Jenkins and Judge W. F. Powell appear for Mr. and Mrs. Hermance and Judge John G. Van Etten and Andrew J. Cook appear for the insurance company.

Newcombe Plan For Gas Station Is Turned Down

Acting on Opinion of Corporation Counsel Jenkins, Public Works Board Rejects Application to Enlarge Broadway Gas Station—Telephone Company Plans Underground Ducts.

At a special meeting held Monday evening at the city hall the board of public works, acting on the opinion of Corporation Counsel James Jenkins, denied the application of the Newcombe Oil Corporation to enlarge and improve its drive-in gas station at Broadway and Delaware avenue. Whether the Newcombe Corporation will appeal from the board's decision to the zoning board of appeals was not stated at the meeting.

In the absence of Mayor Morris Block, who is in New York city undergoing a slight operation, E. J. Dempsey, president of the common council and acting mayor of the city, presided at the meeting.

Corporation Counsel Jenkins, to whom the matter had been referred, reported that in his opinion the Newcombe property had been divided into a business and residential section under the zoning law, that the proposed restaurant and rest room came in the residential section of the property and that the application could not be granted under those circumstances by the board.

Considerable objection to the plans of the Newcombe Corporation to enlarge the station had been made by property owners in the vicinity who claimed that their properties would be damaged by allowing the proposed enlargement to be made.

Telephone in Ducts.

The New York Telephone Company filed an application with the board stating that due to the increased volume of business it had been found necessary to enlarge facilities in different sections of the city, and the company sought permission to open Broadway, "east of Clinton avenue," to build manholes and place in underground ducts on the south side of Broadway from Clinton avenue east to Railroad avenue inside the curb; also on Broadway from Staples street east to Delaware avenue, and on Broadway, north side, from McEntee street to Union street, with manholes at various distances.

The application was granted.

The board also renewed the compensation insurance with the firm of Brinlier & Carey for another six months.

The plan of erecting a shed to house the snow removal equipment was also discussed but no action taken by the board which then adjourned.

West Shore Tied Up by Big Slide

Landslide at Clearwater's Cut, Near Highland, Tied Up West Shore Railroad—Expect Both Tracks Cleared by Afternoon.

The West Shore Railroad was tied up by a big landslide at Clearwater's Cut, about a mile north of Highland, about 2 o'clock this morning when a huge mass of rock and earth let loose and slid over both north and south bound tracks, tying up all traffic in both directions.

The wrecking crew from Kingston and the team crane from Seikirk were hurried to the scene and started to clear up the slide, and at the West Shore station here it was stated that the north bound track was opened about 10 o'clock and that the south bound track would be opened between 1 and 2 o'clock this afternoon.

All trains on the West Shore had to be routed over the Wallkill Valley tracks from Kingston to Campbell Hill and there transferred to the Erie tracks to Cornwall and back again to the West Shore tracks for points south. Coming north, the trains had to be routed into Kingston the same way.

Mrs. Schoemmel Nearing Goal

Ossining, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP).—Mrs. Lott Moore Schoemmel, who is swimming from Albany to New York, dove into the Hudson again today after dipping only five hours, and hoped to swim sixteen miles to Riverdale tonight. She swam 13 miles yesterday, some of the time after dark.

Mrs. Schoemmel hopes to swim from Riverdale to Battery Park, New York, her goal, by midnight Wednesday.

Queen Marie Lays Wreath on Tomb of Unknown Soldier

First Official Act of Rumanian Queen Here Is To Place Wreath on Tomb at Arlington Cemetery—Glamorous Reception at Washington.

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP).—The homage of old world royalty was paid again to the shrine of New World democracy when a pilgrimage today to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier of the United States became the first official act on American soil of Marie, queen of Rumania.

Beginning her round of formal ceremonies less than 24 hours after her arrival at New York, the trip of America's energetic royal visitor to place a wreath upon the tomb in Arlington National Cemetery, Virginia, marked her presence in the sixth state that has felt the touch of her queenly foot, in addition to the District of Columbia, within the span of a day. And in each she has received a royal welcome.

New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland echoed New York's mad greeting, groping for glimpses at royalty as the queen's special sped past. Manhattan transfer had its little crowd, applauding at the tiny station, waiting for the smile and the wave of a hand that the gracious queen gave from the observation platform. West Philadelphia lined its terminals with on-lookers, as did Baltimore, and all along the line of the smooth passage of the queen's express, on country roads, where smiling faces and peering eyes, waving handkerchiefs and clapping hands—accompaniments of a medieval majesty's progress through her realm.

"I've seen so many smiling faces since I landed," she said in an audience to three press representatives aboard the train. "They make me very happy."

"The people seem really glad that I am here. I hope they will take me to their hearts, as I already have taken them to mine."

"They seem to want me here as a queen," she replied to a question as to whether she would assume an incognito or seek any of the privileges of a private visitor to this country.

"What use would there be in pretending to be someone else?" she asked.

A Glamorous Welcome.

When she reached Washington at the close of her first American day, Queen Marie met another glamorous welcome, and had her first glimpse of the nation's capitol.

Standing with Secretary of State Kellogg, faced by an imposing reception in which the variegated uniforms of the army and navy, diplomatic insignia and gold lace designated the highest officials of the various departments of government, backed by the color of her own party with Rumanian pomp and ceremony in attendance on its royalty, the queen was the central figure in a scene neither she nor her audience is likely to forget.

Against the almost ink-black sky, over the heads of the marines at attention and the squadron of cavalry waiting to form her escort of honor and framed in the arcades of Union Station, the dome of the Capitol shone dully gold.

At the Rumanian legation, where, on the extra-territorial soil of her own country, the queen spent the first night of her stay, in this country, the crowd that filled the streets waited like pilgrims for a sight of a new prophesied.

Although she had announced through an officer that she would not appear again, Marie at last related and appeared a lovely regal figure, on a balcony above the entrance. Her hand on the flag staff of her country, red, green and yellow banner, by her animated charming face, lit by her quickly fading flames of photo-grapher's bombs, she spoke a few words of thanks to her new "sub-jects."

Later she entertained formally at the legation, having as dinner guests some members of the diplomatic corps.

PREDICTS ELECTION OF DRY MAJORITY IN CONGRESS

Atlantic City, Oct. 19 (AP).—Election of an overwhelming dry majority in congress in November, was predicted today by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League in an address before the New Jersey Presbyterian Synod.

While the defeat of "wet" programs in congress is expected, Mr. Wheeler appealed to the church to back up the government in general law enforcement. Otherwise, he said, the Republic must fall.

BURGLED EXHIBIT IS PISTOL DEAL WITH OWNER

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP).—Interrupted while robbing the Colson wholesale tobacco store early today, burglars engaged in a pistol deal with Frank Colson, proprietor. One of the burglars is believed to have been shot but all escaped in two automobiles which were waiting for them. The loot consisted of cigars worth $500.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

By MARY GRHAM DONNER

FAIRY QUEEN'S TRIP

The Fairy Queen had not taken a trip in over so long. So she went riding upon the broad back of Fly High, the Elver bird, and saw such to interest her.

First she saw a little brown and white dog sitting in one chair while his master sat in another chair right by his side, on the front veranda of a house.

The dog was so proud of having a whole chair to himself, and sitting up seeing what was going on, just the same as anyone.

Now and again his master spoke and the dog said "Woof" in answer. One time he saw a friend go by and he wagged his tail and spoke. Oh, he was so proud sitting up by his master in a chair all by himself.

Then he saw another little dog who, unfortunately, snapped at his owner even though he really cared for his owner.

"Oh, dear," said the Fairy Queen, "that gives a dog and all animals so much trouble. He will be called treacherous, but it is his bad, snapping disposition. Just as there are people who do not mean to be treacherous but who snap and say harsh things to people they really love."

She saw a great big dog lying on another stoop and some little children stepped on the dog's tail and on his sensitive ears as they went by and oh, she really couldn't blame that dog for the growls he gave when children were so thoughtless and careless.

Then the Fairy Queen talked to an old horse who was covered up with a warm, faded blue and pink quilt which made him look so funny.

But he was good and warm and oh, his old mistress, who sold oranges from a wagon certainly shared what she had with him, even the old quilt so he could not get cold when he waited outside for her.

She stopped and saw an old furnace and the furnace said:

"I've got an appetite, a good appetite with the approach of cold weather."

"Oh, what an excellent appetite I have for coal when the cold days come."

Then the Fairy Queen saw a group of children and they were playing a game called, "Buster, this is a very solemn occasion."

They used each other's names after the word "Buster," and they each tried to make the other laugh, but not to do so herself.

When anyone laughed she had to pay a forfeit and it was remarkable how hard it was to keep from laughing when some one said to you, "Buster, this is a very solemn occasion."

Then the Fairy Queen saw Paddy, who was the dog's little white dog. He was begging for a place of rest from Christmas and first he went to one side of her chair and begged, putting his paws on her lap, and then he went to the other side.

He always seemed to think he might have better luck on her left side if she didn't feed him from the right side!

And then the Fairy Queen saw a group of boys running a kitten that was about to be hurt by a bull-dog and they carried the kitten away with them, put it on a soft cushion, gave it milk and treated it so tenderly that the Fairy Queen said to herself:

"If you want I have always thought. The most tender boys are the kindest to little, helpless creatures."

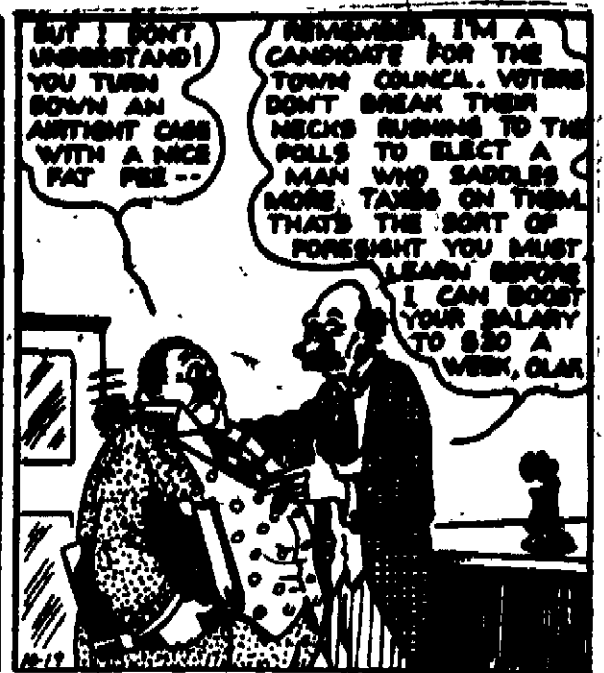

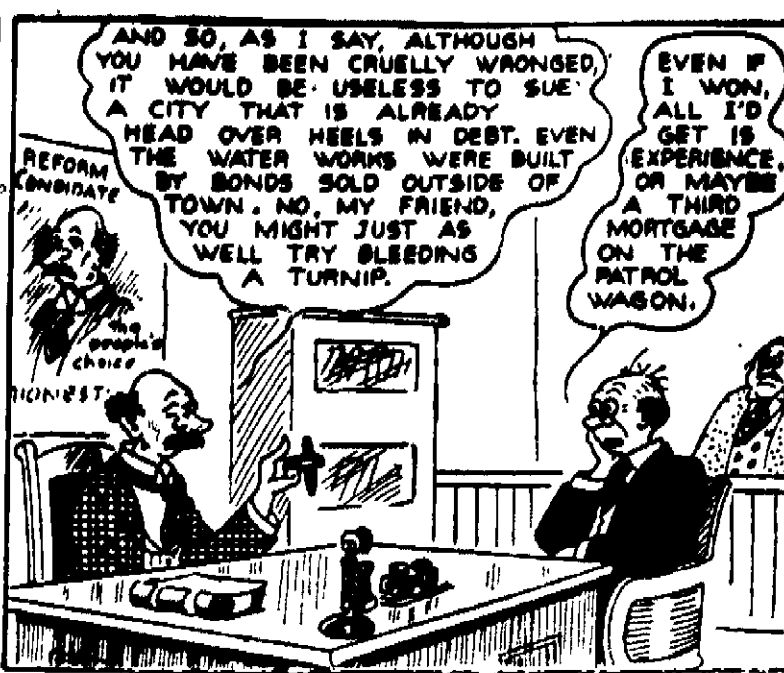

And then, just before she went back to Fairyland, she stopped by and saw little Brown Junior, and heard his great. He had arrived when she had just seen the jelly pig finally.

Probing Charges Against Ferguson

Governor "Ma" Ferguson Under Charge of Receiving Money in Connection With Awarding of State Highway Contracts.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 19 (AP)—With the November election regarded as a routine matter as far as major state offices are concerned, Democratic party leaders today centered their attention on the investigation of charges by a legislative committee that James E. Ferguson, husband of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, received money in connection with the awarding of highway contracts, during his wife's administration.

Charges of irregularities in highway affairs, a major issue in Texas politics since Ferguson was ousted as governor several years ago, furnished the basis of one of the hardest fought campaigns in the state's history when Mrs. Ferguson was defeated for re-nomination by Attorney General Moody in a run-off primary.

With the Democratic nomination considered equivalent to election, party leaders carried the highway fight into the special legislative session called last month by Mrs. Ferguson to validate $100,000,000 of state road bonds declared invalid by the United States Supreme court. In her proclamation calling the special session, Governor Ferguson invited the legislators to "investigate any state deprivations they might desire." The legislature adopted a new road bond measure and before adjournment last week appointed the committee which yesterday began its hearing of the charges of acceptance of bribes by former Governor Ferguson.

Ferguson in a statement last night declared "every member of the committee is a bitter partisan against me personally, as well as against the administration."

TARUMATE VOLCANO ERUPTS, NO CASUALTIES

Tokyo, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Tarumate volcano on Hokkaido Island erupted early today throwing up vast columns of black smoke to a great height. Ashes were scattered for miles around, falling in the towns of Tomokoma and Horobetsu on the south coast to a depth of six inches. Quakes followed the eruption but no casualties were reported.

Hokkaido is a large island to the north of Honshu, the main island of the empire on which Tokyo is situated.

"A ROYAL WEDDING" AT FRANKLIN STREET CHURCH

An entertainment, "The Royal Wedding," will be staged at the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church on Wednesday, October 20, by Professor Elmer Leon Parn of Brooklyn. OUR SPORTING GOODS DEPARTMENT IS THE TALK AMONG ALL OF THE ATHLETES.

Starting approximately five months ago, we are credited with supplying over 15 teams during the summer with uniforms or baseball supplies. Naturally we are very proud to state that we were given the order to outfit and supply the Colonial Baseball Club with uniforms and balls, etc.

And now, with the approach of the basketball season we have already taken two basketball orders, and have more orders pending. All these will be consummated in a later issue.

We are distributors of A. J. Smith Sporting Goods, the largest and best known sporting goods house in the world.

Any order of five dollars or over will be given a special discount. Our basketballs are made in the basketball process with the valve and can be had with or without lines.

Having equipment, indoor supplies and everything in Athletic Goods.

Ellenville Driver Seeking Damages

Negligence in Operating Automobile Alleged to Have Caused Accident Resulting in Damage Suit in Supreme Court.

A negligence action was taken up for trial before Judge Haabrouck and a jury in the Supreme court this morning.

Morris Levine, Ellenville taxi driver, seeks damages for injuries to his 1917 Pierce Arrow car which he claims was damaged by a collision with a Nash car of Solomon Kleinhandler at Middletown on July 22, 1926. Levine claims he had stopped for a traffic signal light when the car of the defendant, driven by his brother, Samuel E. Klein, came up behind and crashed into the stationary car, doing damage which cost $190.20 to repair and also did damage to the body which has not yet been repaired. Levine also claimed he lost the use of the car for nine days in the busy season when his car was capable of earning from $60 to $75 a day for him.

Klein claims that his car was not responsible for the damage to the Levine car and that the damage was slight to the Pierce Arrow. He claims that another car came up from the rear and it was the third car crashing into his car which forced him to run into the Levine car and do some slight damage.

Henry J. Curtis, who claims he drove the third car, was sworn. He said he failed to stop his car at the signal in time to prevent running into the Nash car of Klein. The Nash was knocked ahead and struck the Pierce Arrow a slight blow but he saw no damage to the Pierce Arrow. The Nash sustained a bent fender and a broken tire rack and his car was also slightly damaged. After exchanging numbers and names he and Klein went to Fennell and there the damage to both cars was repaired for $20. Levine suffered no damage and proceeded on home with his car, so far as Curtis knew.

Mauiel Dittenheimer appeared for plaintiff and David E. Engler for defendant. He claimed that even if damages were sustained by Levine it was not through the fault of his client but through the fault of the third driver.

McKay Drove Car While Drunk

Former Head of Board of Water Supply Police Acquitted of Manslaughter But Jury Finds Him Guilty of Drunken and Reckless Driving.

An Associated Press despatch from Barnstable, Mass., on Monday says: Barnstable, Mass., Oct. 18 (AP)—Douglas I. McKay, former deputy police commissioner of New York city, today was found guilty of drunken and reckless driving by a Barnstable county superior court jury. He was found not guilty of manslaughter and paid a $200 fine imposed on the first two charges.

His trial, beginning last Thursday, resulted from the death of Mrs. Mary K. Stockstrom, wealthy St. Louis woman, whose machine was overturned in Mashpee on Labor day when struck by a car driven by McKay. Mrs. Stockstrom was killed instantly and her mother, Mrs. O. D. Kelly of Chicago, was injured. Mrs. Kelly's husband, a Chicago steel magnate, lowered the Twentieth Century Limited's Chicago-Boston running time on a special train he chartered to reach his wife's side.

Colonel McKay is well known in Kingston, where he resided for several years during which he was chief of the New York city board of water supply police force in the early days of construction of the Ashokan reservoir and Catskill aqueduct.

Farmer Killed In Auto Mishap

Corning, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—Heaton G. Lloyd, 77, prominent farmer residing near Toga, Pa., was instantly killed while emptying ashes in the road last night when accidentally struck by the car driven by Fred Leet, of Hammond, Pa. Leet is not being held.

Besides his widow and daughter, Ella, Mr. Lloyd leaves a son, Raymond L. Lloyd, governmental employee at Buffalo.

John Ewel Must Support Family

John Ewel of this city was found guilty of failure to support his family when arraigned before Judge Shufeldt in police court today and was directed to contribute $12 weekly toward their support. To insure the weekly payments bail bond was fixed at $500.

Mrs. Ewel, who is in delicate health, swore out a warrant for her husband's arrest on a non-support charge several days ago and the police learned that he was living with a woman, Nellie Norton, at the home of Homer DeGoff on the state road, two miles above Lexington, in Greene county. Officers Neen and Soper were sent after him and brought him here Monday.

W. C. T. U. Meeting. The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. of Kingston will be held in the parlor of St. James M. E. Church on Wednesday, October 20, at 8:30 p. m. The dues for the coming year will be due. A large attendance will be helpful to the cause.

Hair Stays As You Wish

By Edna Wallace Hooper
Perhaps you like hair that is wavy, curly and abundant. I get that with my Wave and Sheen. I never have my hair straightened.
Perhaps you have a permanent wave,
and wish to keep it. Then embrace at the same time the luster and color of your hair. Wave and Sheen will do that.
Perhaps you like short hair over in place. Wave and Sheen will give that to you in the best way that man knows.
This is the formula used in Paris for all forms of modern hair dress, men and women. It makes hair stay as you wish it, shiny or curled or smooth. All modern styles in Paris employ it, and the up-to-date must have.
My Wave and Sheen keeps hair stuffy or curly, if you wish. It keeps hair smooth and sleek if you desire. It is the keeper of hair beauty.
After all my experience with my Wave and Sheen, I cannot conceive of a man or woman who would not delight to know it.
Get a bottle at any toilet counter today. Mark how it keeps your hair in place, without a particle of grease.
Mark how it keeps the hair soft and the permanent Marcel. Mark the new beauty it brings to your hair. I am sure you will always use it, as I do,
when you see what Wave and Sheen does to the hair. The price is 75 cents.

The KITCHEN CABINET

(A 1926 Western Newspaper Union.)
No talent will enable us to do any work without discovery, but the childlike mind must learn to give up because it is hard. No work can be well done by anyone who is unwilling to sacrifice to its accomplishment.

HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS

On damp or rainy days be sure to supply the boiling pots and pans with plenty of water as the air like a wet sponge absorbs more moisture than when dry.

Obstinate stains
of almost any kind
may be removed
by the use of peroxide
in the sun. Sometimes several applications will be necessary. Be sure to rinse well after using peroxide.
Rust stains are easily removed with lemon juice and salt in the bright sunshine. Salts of lemon moistened
with water is very effective and is always ready to use. Any stain removal should be carefully rinsed out
after applying.

When baking a cake set the alarm clock so that no matter how busy the attention will be called to the kitchen.
Old stockings legs make fine over-sleeves to slip on when working in the kitchen; they save the good dress
sleeves. Cut at the seams and sewed
together they make very good dust
cloths and dust mops.

Candles for use on the table will burn clearer and longer if placed on ice for a day before using. A ring of salt put around the lamp wick will give a soft steady flame and will burn
all night.

Cracks and splits in furniture may be filled with melted beeswax, then varnished, so that they will hardly show.

Black mustard seed, if sowed in the garden, will make the best of salad plants late into the fall. Nice for greens and served with lettuce it is especially good.

Dampen the brush of the carpet
sweeper—it will do much better work
in picking up threads and lint.

Soiled coat collars may be cleaned
with cornmeal wet with gasoline; rub in well and brush out. Velvet will look like new thus cleaned.

Pineapple juice is a good cure for indigestion. Pineapple one can shredded, three bananas and one orange sliced very thin makes a filling for a large cake.

LECTURES FOR GIRLS AND WOMEN AT HIGH SCHOOL

The regular monthly meeting of the Federated Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will be held on Wednesday at 3:15 p. m. On Thursday Dr. Carro C. Croff will speak to the high school girls at the morning assembly. At 3:30 p. m., she will speak to women at the high school
under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Associations. Her subject will be Sex Hygiene. Dr. Croff is in the employ of the New York State Department of Health. This department has loaned her to the Parent-Teacher Associations of the state for a limited period and she is in much demand. A cordial invitation is extended to the women of Kingston and vicinity to attend this meeting
on Thursday afternoon and hear Dr.
Croff's lecture on this important and timely subject.

children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle-woman. Illustrating 26 of the various style sketches, all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Improvised Warnings

Buy dressed like the rule and two quarters turned to indicate the movements of the party as a means of warning persons attending the office
shown during baby week in Sunday
Ladies, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The costume of but one of the actors, who illustrated by photographs how the misapplied safety pin
works and how the set carries dresses and costumes look as well as other things.

Brown and Tan Plaid, Fox Collar and Cuffs

Fall-plaids are the thing. Patricia Avery, prominent motion picture
actress, wears this smart fall coat of brown and tan plaid, trimmed with red fox collar and cuffs. A brown felt hat is worn with this coat.

Tiny Hat Bag Is Last Word for the Flappers

There's always something new in flapperdom! Some new little hat or trick of wearing the hair which distinguishes the flapper from the young matron.

For instance, the wee hat bag
called the Charleston, was designed especially for the chic young miss.
It's a small black oilcloth box exactly like a stiff traveling hatbox
in shape. It is lined in oilcloth, since it is used for carrying wet bathing suits. Some of them are fitted with vanity pouches for powder, rouge, comb, etc. Hat bags of leather or oilcloth have become quite important as overnight bags, shopping bags and what-not.

And have you seen the latest flapper hair-do? The hair grows longer
at one side of the head than on the other and the longer hair is whirled
across the back of the head until it overlaps the short hair, giving a long-haired effect. The head looks as though the hair is plastered to it.

A new hat designed for youthful misses is called the "tea for two"
chapeau. It's a small head-shaped felt without a brim, but with a tab
resembling a horse's blinder downwards over one side of the head, almost covering the eye. Thus a girl
can make eyes at a man at the seat
table without her escort seeing her.

Whatever length the matron
chooses for her fall frocks, the flapper will still consider the shorter the better. Her skirts will not grow longer if she can help it.

Brilliant red finger nails and ear-
lobes must harmonize, say the flappers. The very tip of the ear is exposed after all these years of concomitant and its pearly paleness is glorified with the rouge pot. Nails are tinted red and then, enameled to give additional glow.

Bows Much in Evidence on Fashionable Clothes

Last season the bow was very small and innocent. It was put anywhere—
to make a design at the bottom of the blouse, or used as a wrist-fastener or in the place of waistcoat buttons.
It came into favor, it gradually became indispensable, it has grown up and has now established itself on every kind of dress.

We now see Watteau bows on the back of the corse, between the shoulders, Louis XIII bows on the front of the dress, with long, loose ends
hanging down to the bottom of the skirt, bows of velvet, bows of fur
placed like a long necktie or a pocket
ornament or a wrap-fastener, or on the waistband or poms or waistcoat.
They are wide, long, supple, pretty and full of movement, and they give surprising effectiveness to all sorts of textures.

Afternoon and Evening Frocks for the Juniors

For the afternoon occasion, the junior has the preference of flowered
chiffon, georgette and lingerie frocks.
The flowered georgette are invariably
somewhat tailored in junior style,
having long sleeves, tailored collars
with scarf ends or occasionally the wide-necked drapes.

Evening frocks the young miss
desires in sheer organdie, crepe lace, puffed frocks or the frock with many ruffles on the skirt is particularly interesting in youthful models. In fact, the only time when the little miss can afford to step away from conventional effects is at evening
dinner. She may then wear the slim bodice with the full circular skirt, the shoulder dress with numerous ruffles
on the skirt or the picture frock.

Whatever because of the old-fashioned junior who used to cut short dresses in the shape of tunics and push
them back into the pond?

When the "middy" is brought to a state of other perfection
she shall be able to bear the step of the current pie as it is.

Eleanor Gunn Says

Rain-proof taffeta and rain-proof
crepe de chine, both launched abroad,
are being worn, now that weather
conditions are a little uncertain and motor trips to far-off stadiums are in order; also that sports coats score
when trimmed with either leather or fur.

Crystal jewelry has come up to all expectations. Some of the long cut crystal earrings worn these nights at smart premieres are dazzling.

Most evening parties of any style importance indicate a wide range of fabrics, velvet being always among those present.

The recurrence of the surprise line
is one of the bright spots in the season. If one is concerned with lines
which tend to making one slender.

Ungreen hem-lines are the rule,
rather than the exception, these nights.

The repeated use of velvet ribbon
is one of the style memories of a season largely concerned with velvet of one sort or another.

Furs that are lighter than the clouds down their trim are generally
approved, and many of the smarter
women are choosing furs that are sprayed in color.

The remarkable far-fetched coat is just the type of coat to wear to the game, and many are effecting this comfortable and elegant mode.

Of course, you have noticed how many smart girls are wearing belted dresses, blouses and sweaters.

Sleeve interests vary. Some have the below-the-elbow movement, but the wide armhole or dolman sleeve
ranks as the leading style of the season.

Motor coats trimmed with leather,
instead of fur, are being worn these days, this being a European idea
that seems to meet with the approval
of the girl who stresses the sport
element in dress.

Women's Auxiliary are making arrangements for an intensive day for Wednesday, October 27, beginning with the celebration of the Holy Communion in the church at 11 o'clock.

Lunch will be served at Heartsease at 12:30 and during the day instructions will be given by Mrs. Hoffman of Newburgh with reference to the message authorized by the general convention. The rectors of Trinity Church, Highland, and St. Andrew's Church, New Paltz, are expected to bring delegates from each parish to this meeting.

Mr. Ward is erecting a filling sta-

Farm and Home Bureau Plays

Four Communities to Present Competitive Plays at Community Meetings—Knox Competition for First Place.

Farm and Home Bureau community meetings are drawing larger crowds this fall than ever before. Programs put on by the Kingston Chamber of Commerce under the direction of Secretary L. S. Coe have greatly pleased on each of three occasions. At least two more of these programs are scheduled for later dates.

Headliners on the schedule for this week are the Asbury, Modena, Wallkill-Shawangunk, and New Paltz meetings coming on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings respectively. These four meetings will introduce the first of the competitive plays staged each fall for possession of the silver cup and the honor of presenting the play at the annual Farm and Home Bureau banquet. The cup has been won two successive years by Allgerville-Kyserike. It must be won three times before passing permanently into the hands of the community. Judges have been selected to attend and score each production. Their report will be final and will be announced at the annual meeting in December.

The play to be staged by Asbury on Tuesday evening, October 19, is entitled "Kidville on the Radio". It is a riot of humor and good fun. The parts are taken by well known and experienced Asbury performers who have appeared behind the spot lights on many occasions.

Modena community has brought together the very cream of their home talent artists who will appear in "Neighbors" at the new community hall in Modena on Wednesday, October 20. "Neighbors" is a well known home talent comedy that never fails to please even a critical audience. Cafeteria style supper is being served following the play.

Wallkill-Shawangunk for the past two years have been runners up for the cup, having staged performances that gave the judges great concern before placing the award elsewhere. This year those in charge have selected what they believe will prove a winner. It is "A Chapter of Surprises." This play is designed to make the audience double up in laughter from start to finish. So if you like to laugh come to the Shangunk Church Hall on Thursday evening, October 21st, at 8 o'clock.

New Paltz is the home of high class home talent entertainment. The Grange, Farm and Home Bureau and all other New Paltz organizations are great when it comes to entertaining. The play they have selected for Friday evening, October 22nd, is "A Bachelor's Dream." It is rumored the judges will be called upon to sit up and take notice of "A Bachelor's Dream" on Friday evening at New Paltz.

The Farm and Home Bureau people with it clearly understood that everybody is welcome and cordially invited to attend these meetings. No admission is charged. Refreshments are served at a small sum for those who wish to eat. Short talks are given on each occasion by leaders of the two organizations.

HALF FIRE DEATHS OCCUR IN HOUSES

Capable Housekeeping Is
Main Prevention, Says
Underwriters' Board.

New York.—Every three minutes, statisticians assert, there is a cry of "Fire!" in somebody's home in the United States. The fire bell clangs in the stillness of the night or in the din of the day. The engine's siren shrieks. Sometimes the excitement is soon over and little damage is done; but often the results are serious and tragic. Millions of dollars' worth of property is destroyed each year. More than half of the 15,000 annual human toll of fire is taken in the home.

Origins of fires are various. A prowling kitten upsets a box of matches; the matches fall on a lighted stove and ignite a dish towel drying nearby, spreading thence to the woodwork and so through the house. More often a careless housewife has let rubbish accumulate in her attic or her cellar, or has used gasoline in the kitchen to clean an old dress or kerosene to quicken a slow fire. Perhaps she went away for the day without disconnecting her electric iron; or allowed the baby to play with a box of matches. Frequently a careless smoker tosses a lighted match out against the window awning or into a yard of dry unweeded grass.

A negligent builder may be at fault. Not long ago a Midwesterner was warned that his new chimney was dangerous because it was lined with sewer tile instead of with fire clay. But before he complied with the fire chief's demolition order, fire originating in the chimney destroyed the house.

Wood Shingles and Defective Flues. When the fire engines rushed down the street and the excitement-loving pedestrian hurries after it, he may be rewarded for his pains by finding only a "chimney on fire." This, no doubt, strikes him as pretty tame; yet the average annual loss from this cause in the last five years has exceeded $7,000,000. It is possible to build chimneys in a hundred wrong ways and the builder too often selects one of these. Again, chimneys that are correctly built may not be kept clean. Defective chimneys and flues come first on the National Board of Fire Underwriters' list of causes of dwelling-house fires, being responsible for 11 per cent of the total.

The "ahingie jungle" at its densest in certain outlying parts of Greater New York where boxlike houses are closely packed together, is another major offender. Sparks on wood shingle roofs are held accountable for more than 9 per cent of the fires in dwellings. Next come stores, furnaces, boilers and their pipes, guilty because often they are improperly placed and not properly insulated. More than 700,000,000 matches are struck a day in the United States—almost 500,000 a minute. Every lighted cigarette and every waste-basket, when the two meet, write catastrophe.

Garage Worst Offender. Petroleum and its products are responsible for 5 per cent of household fires. Oil stoves are often knocked over; maps are improperly operated. But the garage is the worst offender of all. It is held responsible for the increase in late years of fires laid to petroleum and its products.

The total annual fire loss, when averaged out among all the dwelling-house fires, would, it is said, be sufficient to provide enough $10,000 houses to take care of the population of cities the size of Bridgeport, Dayton or Dallas.

The good housekeeper sees that stores and pipes are properly installed; that kitchen curtains are out of reach of gas flames; that drying clothes are not hung too near the stove. She sees to it that the living-room fire is entirely out before the family goes to bed and that ashes and oily rags are kept in metal cans. She takes no chances. A really good housekeeper, the National Board of Fire Underwriters notes, stands little chance of being among the home fire victims.

The beauty of precaution is that, like most habits, it may readily become second nature. Thus may loss of life and property be reduced without any really appreciable expenditure of effort.

Kaiser's Wife Is Expert Moving Picture Operator

Berlin.—Princess Hermine, second wife of the former Kaiser, is an expert motion picture camera operator. She maintains an amateur standing, but she films most of the movies that are thrown on the screen in the edle villa at Doorn.

The principal characters in her dramas are her five children by her previous marriage. The former Kaiser frequently takes a part in the little skits while the princess turns the crank.

Field Marshall von Mackensen, when visiting the Kaiser, was invited, to witness a homemade movie show and is said to have declared it the most interesting he had ever seen. Others have declared that if a motion picture concern could get hold of the films, five or six reels would be worth a million dollars. The princess preserves the pictures merely to have a continuous photographic record of the development of her children.

Cheer Humanity

As long as the human race possesses the psychological characteristics that it does, just that long will there be a real need for flowers and florists. The mental attitude of every one of us is influenced by his surroundings. We are cheered and very apt to regard material affairs through rosy glasses on a bright day and be depressed and have a tendency to look on the dark side of things when the clouds hide the sun.

Training People For Leisure Hours

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 19 (AP).—It is harder to break into a college curriculum than it is into society, President George Barton Cutten, of Colgate University, told the delegates to the Recreation Congress of the Playground and Recreation Association of America here this morning.

"There are certain things in our college courses for no other reason than that they were there in the Middle Ages," Dr. Cutten said. "We are more conservative in our education than we are in our theology. Education has always been for either one of two purposes: General culture or preparation for earning a living. In some cases, both purposes have been in mind."

"With new conditions, we will have to add a third purpose, namely, education for leisure," Dr. Cutten continued. "We find that with the large amount of leisure that has been thrust upon the world almost before we realized it, there has been no training for its proper use. Training for leisure should be as strenuous as training for a vocation. As the great majority of the people never go to college this training must not only be a part of college but perhaps even more so, of primary and secondary education. And our night schools, instead of being strictly vocational, must spend some time in education for the leisure hours."

Red Cross Annual Meeting.
The regular annual meeting of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held on Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A., 307 Broadway. This is an open meeting and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Ocean Raising Places.
Edward R. Armstrong of Philadelphia is the inventor of a "seadrome," which, he says, can be anchored in the Atlantic ocean to serve as an airplane base and will make trans-oceanic flights practical. The floating field is equipped with buoys and resistance disks, which give great lightness and at the same time are only slightly affected by winds and waves. He has been working on the model for twenty years.

France Has Absorbed Blood of Many Races

France is called a Latin country, but little save the language and some customs are really left over from Roman times. Racially, there is no European people more mixed. Two-thirds of the dwellers in ancient Gaul were Celts, the rest were Teutonic Franks.

This Celto-Teutonic admixture in the last 2,000 years has absorbed Romans from all parts of that heterogeneous empire; pure Celts, in Brittany; Scandinavian Normans, in the Seine valley; Teutonic Flemings and Walloons, in the north; Teutons, in Lorraine and Alsace; Italians, in Nice and Savoy; Greeks and Arabs, on the Mediterranean coast; Spaniards and Basques, in the Pyrenees; English and Scotch, in the southwest, which was held by English kings for more than a century.

After the Napoleonic wars came many Poles. Before 1814 Swiss, German and Belgian immigrants were being quickly assimilated. Such facts sugar well for the present undigested contingents of Italians, Russians, Czechs and Poles. There has been talk, nevertheless, of establishing a quota system similar to that in force in the United States.

New Device Guides Ships in Thick Fog

Dover, England—English mariners are interested in a new device just installed in Calais harbor. It is now claimed that the thickest fog causes no difficulty to ships entering the port.

The apparatus consists of a submarine signal system which takes the form of a siren, the vibrations of which are of such high frequency as to be imperceptible to the human ear. Immediately below the siren is a wireless aerial connected with a mechanism beneath the surface of the water which projects sound waves outward over a very small arc of circle. Every ship carrying a suitable receiver thus can pick up the sounds and make straight for port.

Woman Commands Liner.
Moscow.—A woman in trousers is to command a transatlantic steamer. Capt. Marie Malagouy has already served as able seaman, pilot and second officer on the Black sea.

United Lutheran Church Convention

REV. F. H. KNUBEL, REV. M. G. SCHERER, and REV. E. CLARENCE MILLER, officers of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The officers of the United Lutheran Church in America, who are preparing for the Fifth Biennial Convention of the body to be held at Richmond, Va., October 19th to 24th.

New York, Oct. 19.—The United Lutheran Church in America, which opens its fifth biennial convention in Richmond, Va., tonight, has gained 38,167 in baptized membership during the past year bringing its total membership up to 1,417,909, according to latest statistics compiled by the Rev. G. L. Kieffer, statistical secretary.

Confirmed membership likewise shows an increase of 30,660 over last year's figures, bringing the new total to $42,920.

The United Lutheran Church, which is the largest Lutheran general body in the United States and Canada, is divided into 34 district synods, each of which sends clerical and lay delegates to the conventions. During the past year the 5,418 congregations composing the church contributed

Gardiner Girl Writes of Farming

How Farm Life Appeals to Fannie Soleff Told in Interesting Manner
in Letter to The Jewish Farmer.

The Jewish Farmer in its October
issue prints the following contribution by Fannie Soleff of Gardiner, Ulster county. Applicants for J. A.
S. scholarships at any state college
write articles for the Jewish Agricultural Society which selects those they deem worthy to take the course:

I have been on the farm five and a half years. I have found farm life
very interesting. It is a healthy life.
Still there are so many things that Mother Nature has given us to think about all the time.

My folks have tried several kinds of farming. The first year, we went into dairy. Soon we have discovered that unless you go at it on a large scale there isn't any income. The following two years we only kept a few cows and raised garden products. We also raised chickens
every year, not much, though—from two to three hundred. And we found that they pay better than anything else. And I love to work around chicks, I find it very interesting.

I belong to a Poultry Club now
and we discuss all parts of poultry.
We get books and pamphlets from Cornell University.

Last year we sent two chickens
and a cockerel to the fair and we won second prize. I'm confident we could make a success of it. We have sixty-three acres of land and just the right spot for poultry houses. We expect to build a number of such houses and so forth.

We raise quite a few crops now:
plenty of corn, potatoes, hay, oats,
etc. We bought three hundred baby chicks this spring. But since we didn't have the proper equipment for them, we only raised one hundred and seventy-five.

When we worked our land more than anything else, I always helped.
I planted corn, potatoes, hoed them,
sprayed the potatoes and helped dig
and sort them out, and helped my father take them to market.

I fed the cows and the horses and I also milk the cows. I always help my father do all the chores because
my dad hasn't any boys with him,
so I always take a boy's place.

In haying time I also help. Sometimes I pitch and sometimes I rake.
If we should be short of hay in the winter time, my dad and I go to a farm in the town to take a big load
of hay home. I even help my father saw wood. So you see I have tried various kinds of farming.

We raised quite a few calves also.
And we always got good prices for our calves. If it is a bull calf we fatten him and then sell him. We always get an average of twenty-five dollars. We sell cream and butter now.

There is going to be a fair the latter part of this month in Nassau,
N. Y., and there are always many exhibitions of poultry. We go every year to see them. There is a man that demonstrates and elucidates
everything about them. That man is Mr. Harter of Troy, N. Y. He is the head of our club.

UNION CENTER.

Union Center, Oct. 19.—The Ladies Aid will serve a chicken supper at the chapel on Wednesday night, October 27, from 5 o'clock
until all are served. The menu:
Chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy,
celery, carrots and peas, cranberries
and home made biscuit, coffee, ice cream and cake. The usual candy bowl will also be in evidence. A cordial welcome is extended to all to attend. The proceeds will go towards paying for having electric lights installed in the chapel. All those who are furnishing to help make this a success will please have their assessments at the chapel at 4 o'clock sharp.

Truth is stranger than fiction—
also more decent.

Potato and Bean Crops Spotted

The condition of both the potato
and the bean crops in New York state
is far from uniform according to the state-federal crop report for October issued from the New York State Department of Farms and Markets. On Long Island the potato harvest was far enough along on October 1 so that a very reliable estimate of the crop
could be made so far as Long Island is concerned. The yield has been high and the quality good. In the other parts of the state conditions are entirely different. Many of the fields of potatoes in the higher elevations,
such as much of Steuben county's potato section, were still green and making growth. Many of the fields in the valleys and lower elevations
had blighted and some rot was showing in the tubers. Very little damage by frost had been done thus far. The vines, where not struck by the blight
too early, had made an excellent growth but a light set of tubers was the commoner report. With conditions as they are at present the potato crop in New York state is estimated at 31,047,000 bushels compared with a crop of 23,994,000 bushels harvested last year and with 43,400,000
bushels harvested in 1924.

The Potato Crop Elsewhere.

Conditions seemed to be quite similar to the upstate conditions of New York in several of the competing late potato growing states. Many of Maine's potato fields were still green
with harvesting going on. It is estimated that Maine has a crop of about 35,545,000 bushels. A year ago Maine harvested a crop of 34,170,000 bushels and in 1924 a crop of 44,100,000 bushels. Michigan reports a light yield of early potatoes and rather disappointing yields in many of the fields of late potatoes already harvested. Frost has stopped growth in most sections of Michigan although there is practically no blight. Some rot is showing up although for the most part the quality is very good. A crop of 27,888,000 bushels is looked for in Michigan. In 1924 a crop of 24,411-
000 bushels was harvested. Minnesota expects to harvest about 26,773-000 bushels. About 26,772,000 bushels were harvested in 1925. The potato crop in Pennsylvania is now estimated at 22,580,000 bushels compared with 25,461,000 bushels in 1925.

The total United States potato crop harvested in 1925 amounted to about 323,243,000 bushels. This year the crop is estimated at about 350,821,000 bushels.

Weather Damages Beans.

The size of the bean crop that will be harvested in New York state is still a question. During September when many of the bean fields were mature enough to harvest the fields
were so wet that it was impossible
to use harvesting machinery in them.
Considerable damage has also been done to the beans themselves by the inclement weather causing some to rot and others to become badly spotted. The "pick" will, in many cases, be heavy. The present indications are for a crop of 1,668,000
bushels compared with 1,426,000 bushels harvested a year ago. The crop in Michigan has been injured
somewhat by both frosts and wet
weather reducing the September
forecast for Michigan's bean production to 6,140,000 bushels compared with 8,289,000 bushels harvested a year ago.

A total United States crop of beans
now promises to be about 16,970,000
bushels which is considerably smaller than the 19,534,000 bushel crop
harvested last year and the average of 14,600,000 bushels the last five years.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By the Associated Press.)

New York—Everybody who works on the Leviathan sincerely hopes Queen Marie will come again. Her largest tip was about $1,500. The lowest tip was $5. Several waiters got $50 each. One steward was given a gold watch; stewardesses received diamond brooches. The queen gave $200 for the ship's sick fund and $500 for smokes for the whole crew.

Pittsburgh—As head of the K. K. K. in this territory for five years, Samuel D. Rich had an appropriate name. It allegations in litigation are correct. It is averred he earned half a million.

Princeton, N. J.—Students at Princeton University must prove that any automobiles they may own are necessities before they can derive revenue from scholarships.

Chicago—Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin has been thrown by her horse twice in a week. The first time a runaway upset her gig, but she was unhurt. Then she was badly bruised when her mount fell and rolled on her.

New York—There should be a pro-football argument in this. Official statistics of a year's violent deaths in

New York city include: Diving, 8; sleighing, 6; baseball, 6; flat fights, 3; football, 1.

New York—Roger Wolfe Kahn is in vaudeville with his jazz band and a new mustache.

Greenville, S. C.—There will be a hot time of several varieties in the old town when Norwood Cleveland gets home tomorrow, completing a walk from Athens, Ga., caused by picking the wrong football team to bet on. Social clubs will give him a gala welcome, but Mrs. Cleveland vows that she will have another kind of club ride.

New York—Down, down, the champions keep coming. Just after the uncrowned champion, Albert Tangora lost the typewriting title. He wrote only 7,899 words in an hour while George Hensfield did 7,920.

GIRL SCOUTS TO HOLD HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Girl Scouts held their weekly meeting Monday afternoon in Pythian Hall where hereafter they will hold all their meetings.

At this meeting the plans for a Halloween party for Monday, October 25, were completed. The girls are to go in costume to Pythian Hall at the close of the afternoon school session.

Girl Scouts of No. 6 school will be on traffic duty for the week of October 25, for their school as it is Girl Scout Coast to Coast Week.

Dr. Sanford Opens Office in City

Dr. Lester E. Sanford, who has been located for the past seven years at Boonville, N. Y., has opened an office for general practice at 167 Clinton avenue, this city. He will also specialize in obstetrics, having recently returned from New York city where he has been doing post graduate work in obstetrics at Lying-In Hospital.

Dr. Sanford is the son of Edwin W. Sanford, an attorney at Albany. He was graduated from Albany Medical College in 1916 and served as intern at St. Peter's Hospital in Albany. He was later on the staff of the Binghamton State Hospital and then started a private practice at Boonville where he has remained since 1920. He is a member of Oneida County Medical Society and the New York State Society and a captain in the Medical Officers' Reserve Corps, having served as a First Lieutenant, M. C. U. S. A., during the war. Fraternally he is a member of Mountaineer Lodge, 321, I. O. O. F., at Albany; Boonville Lodge, 165, F. & A. M.; Utica Lodge, No. 459, I. O. O. M.; Adirondack Encampment, No. 156, Boonville, and C. J. Love, D. S. C. Post, No. 306, American Legion, of Boonville.

Police Maintain High Reputation

Canada's Mounted Police Troopers Long Distances and Meet Many Adversities—Vast Many Inaccessible Sections.

Ottawa, Oct. 19 (AP).—Reports from lonely outposts in the Canadian Arctic islands indicate that the high reputation of Canada's mounted police force is being sustained. From the stations of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police on Baffin, Devon and Ellesmere islands come stories of single patrols through the Arctic winter in bleak, inaccessible sections of the north.

Two of these journeys made by members of the mounted police are given special note. The first, undertaken by Staff Sergeant A. H. Joy, covered a distance of 975 miles and occupied forty days. The second made by Sergeant J. E. F. Wight accounted for 1,286 miles of travel between February 15 and May 2 of the present year. The latter patrol was made for the purpose of investigating the alleged murder of an Eskimo several years ago.

Suffered From Snow Blindness.

Staff Sergeant Joy traveled alone, save for an Eskimo dog driver and hunter, from Craig Harbor around the southern and western shores of Ellesmere Island and crossed Eureka Sound to Axel Heiberg, the large island lying to the west of Ellesmere. Hitherto Axel Heiberg has been regarded as one of the most inaccessible of the Canadian Arctic islands. The report mentions that both Sergeant Joy, and his companion suffered from snow-blindness while on Axel Heiberg. The same officer, while descending a glacier, ran into a network of deep crevasses masked by light snow. He discovered the existence of the crevasses when his dog teams broke through.

Sergeant Wight's long patrol took him through a country which is so little known that the latest maps proved to be inaccurate as to the situation of several large lakes it contains. Traversing regions unknown to his Eskimo companions, he visited a number of small bands of Eskimos and found much destitution among them. He was able to assist in relieving their distress.

Over 6,000 Miles Covered.

The mounted police have now patrolled the whole of the southeast of the southern half of Ellesmere Island. They have covered part of the coast of Axel Heiberg; the northern and southern coasts of Devon Island; and the whole of the north and east coasts of Baffin Island as well as part of the west coast. The distance traveled by two detachments on Baffin Island was over six thousand miles, while on Ellesmere Island a distance of 3,300 miles was covered. These figures are exclusive of ground covered in hunting trips.

Thus the work of exploring and policing the north goes on. Through the dangers and hardships of the northern winter, the mounted police continue to push their way farther and farther into the almost unknown sections of Canada's Arctic continent. And down in the temperate zone, the public is informed that the winter in the northwestern Arctic was one of "great activity."

Candidates Now Heading Eastward

Climax of Republican Campaign Reached in Western Part of State—Mills Continues Opposition to Government Operation of Public Utilities.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP).—The Republican state campaign was headed east today, with New York city as its objective.

The candidates reached the climax of their campaign in western New York with a mass meeting here in Elmwood Music Hall at which an audience that filled the auditorium to three-fourths capacity showed its approval of stated issues—continuance of prosperity under the Republican national administration and the curbing of the power of Tammany Hall in New York state.

Opposes Government Operation. Representative Ogden L. Mills, candidate for governor, stressed his opposition to government operation of public utilities, declaring such a method would be inefficient, extravagant and contrary to American institutions.

"Public operation goes into politics," he said. "Rates and extensions become matters for political consideration. Economic policies are made to yield to political exigencies and securing votes rather than rendering service becomes the controlling motive. The payroll is determined not by the needs of business but by the patronage demands of the boss."

United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., and Comptroller Vincent B. Murphy also were received with applause.

Together at Night Meetings. Senator Wadsworth and Representative Mills both set out for Rochester today, planning to unite in that city tonight for a mass meeting in Convention Hall. Other speakers will be Comptroller Murphy and Miss Helen Varick Boswell.

Mr. Mills was to speak in Batavia, Leroy and Genesee en route while Senator Wadsworth's motor bus was to take him to Medina, Albion, Holly, Brockport and Spencerport.

On Wednesday the candidates will continue to Syracuse for a night meeting.

WILLIAM SPIEGEL WILL PAINT MANSION HOUSE. William Spiegel has been awarded the contract to paint the Mansion House building, Broadway and Strand, by Max Leventhal, owner of the building, and is expected to start work next week.

Cure for Lying. It is said (by naturalists) that angle worm fl. rubbed on the back or the neck, will cure a man or being. I don't believe this, unless it kills the man.—Josh Billings.

European Bankers Favor Free Trade

Paris, Oct. 19 (AP).—Free trade is the only means by which Europe can be brought back to a normal economic condition, in the opinion of a group of prominent European bankers and industrialists who tomorrow in London will make known the result of their intensive study of economic conditions on this side of the Atlantic.

The bankers and industrialists are expected to declare that a halt must be called upon what they term fictitious prosperity in countries that resorted to inflation and to say that if economic problems are to be solved stabilization must be linked with the breaking down of trade barriers. They believe this is the first and most important step toward opening the road to a healthy state of business.

Evangelist Will Stick to Story

Los Angeles, Oct. 19 (AP).—Attorneys for Alvin Karpis, the evangelist, charged with criminal conspiracy, indicated today that the story told by her before the county grand jury about being kidnapped and held for ransom "was her story and she would stick to it."

Whether the evangelist and her mother would take the stand has not been determined. A large number of other probable witnesses for the defense were notified to be on hand when the preliminary hearing resumed in municipal court.

The prosecution indicated that Milton Carson, handwriting expert, would be the last state's witness called to testify the handwriting of the grocery slips found in a cottage vacated by Kenneth G. Ormiston and a mysterious woman companion after a sojourn at Carmel-by-the-Sea last May.

Men's Club to Meet. The Men's Club of the Church of the Comforter will meet in the church hall this evening at 8 o'clock. The Rev. E. G. Reith, pastor of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church, will give an address. Refreshments, consisting of pancakes and sausages, will be served. Every member is urged to be present.

Sowing by Airplane. Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 19 (AP).—Sowing by airplane has been inaugurated by the Manitoba department of agriculture. A number of sacks of wild rice have been forwarded to the Lake Cormorant station on the Hudson Bay railway for distribution by airplane over suitable marshes in the Manitoba northland.

First "Farm Paper" Agricultural Journalism in the United States is usually dated from the establishment of the American Farmer in Baltimore. This eight-page weekly was started in 1819.

Magill Denies Huge Slush Fund

Anti-Saloon League Officials Had Quoted Methodist Clergyman as Having Fund of $250,000 to $400,000 Had Been Awarded.

Chicago, Oct. 19 (AP).—The trail of a reputed "slush fund" for the independent senatorial candidacy of Hugh S. Magill of Chicago was followed today by the senate campaign funds committee.

Respectively Magill, Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, the chairman and sole member of the committee here, had summoned the Rev. Robert O'Brien, a Methodist preacher of Chicago, who was quoted yesterday by two Anti-Saloon League officials as having said from $200,000 to $400,000 for Magill's campaign had been assured.

Magill, in a statement in East St. Louis last night, asserted that any statements that a huge slush fund had been raised in behalf of his candidacy were lies. He said his expenses will not exceed $25,000 and that the largest single contribution he had received was $1,000.

The dry leaders who testified before the committee—F. Scott McBride, national superintendent, and George B. Safford, state superintendent—said that the Rev. Mr. O'Brien had sought Anti-Saloon League support for Magill, but this had been refused, the officials objecting to the expenditure of the sum they mentioned.

Both quoted O'Brien as declaring that this sum would be spent without running about the law because there were plenty of "holes" in the corrupt practices act.

Preventing Flood Of Indecent Books

United States Customs Inspectors Able to Protect Public With Aid of Existing Government Machinery and Laws.

New York, Oct. 19 (AP).—Eighteen customs inspectors stand guard here to protect the American public from a flood of imported books, pictures, and even toys, that the government considers indecent.

Chris Schmidt, head of the squad, is credited with having developed a power of eye that frequently causes a would-be importer of obscene articles to quail and betray his guilt before he is searched.

In years of watching Schmidt has worked out a few general rules which greatly simplify his work. One is that little contraband of this kind is found on American and English ships. Another is that the crew and its quarters must be watched as closely as the passengers and their baggage. The great general rule is that everything is to be regarded with suspicion.

What once appeared to be a wagon-load of rubbish was found to be nearly a wagon-load of contraband goods. Schmidt has found that seamen do not trust one another to smuggle in forbidden articles. If an individual is suspected, the evidence of his guilt is likely to be found in his possession. He reports that waiters and firemen are the two classes of the crew most likely to attempt this kind of smuggling. Different classes of the crew do not mingle with one another,

Clergy Commend Wadsworth Stand

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP).—United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., made public here today one of several letters he has received from clergymen commending his stand on prohibition.

The letter was signed by the Rev. D. John N. Bortos, pastor of Grace Episcopal Church, of this city, and was made public with Dr. Bortos's permission.

"I take honest pleasure," Dr. Bortos wrote, "in telling you how refreshing your fearless courage is to me—and countless others."

"We clergymen because we are clergymen, are permitted no private opinions upon political matters. We are expected by the rank and file, to view the Volstead Act and the 18th Amendment as sacrosanct."

"We are called upon, from many quarters, to be narrow visioned, intolerant spokesmen for the broad gauge, ever-tolerant Jesus. Hence we too often repel the thoughtful, the willing to be convinced, constructive men and women. God forgive us."

Schmidt says, and so when contraband is found in the waiter's quarters the culprit is almost certain to be a waiter.

One trait which Schmidt notes as general among seamen who have been caught is the tendency not to call down anathemas upon the officers of the law but to curse themselves for being such fools as to attempt this kind of offense.

Sport Briefs Of All Sorts

(By The Associated Press.)

Friday will be a busy night for Gene Tunney, Greenwich Village, "the champion's very own," will welcome him home and after the celebration he will leave for Pittsburgh to receive the keys of that city and attend Saturday's football game between Pittsburgh and Carnegie Tech. Alderman Edward J. Sullivan, who with Sheriff C. W. Calkin is in charge of the Greenwich Village affair, is authority for the statement that it will be "such a night as only the village can give."

William T. Tilden, former national singles champion, has donated a cup and promises to play left-handed in a tennis tournament among theatrical stars. Although some of the entrants have expressed their suspicions, Bill is not left handed naturally.

Columbia oarsmen, adding a touch of sentiment to their struggle to regain a place in the crew spotlight under the direction of Dick Glendon, former navy mentor, have named two of their eights, "Poughkeepsie" and "Saratoga," to commemorate two of the great Columbia triumphs on the water. The boats will compete in the annual fall regatta on the Harlem River, October 29.

Sport gossip is already linking the name of Dave Bancroft, manager of the Boston Braves, with the vacancy created yesterday at the helm of the Pittsburgh Pirates by the release of Bill McKechnie. Banny is said to desire a change of scenery but is averse to the reins of the Braves, who spurred amazingly at the close of the National League season. George Sisler, first baseman and manager of the St. Louis Browns, was the first manager de-throned during the stove league season.

Probably the most peculiar play in all Saturday's spectacular football was the scoring of a touchdown by a Princeton player who had seemingly been eliminated from the play. Baruch threw a pass that Schubert, Navy back, batted down only to see it fall into the arms of Stinson, Tiger half back who was sitting over the goal line after having been knocked down by Hamilton, another Middle back.

Among the leading college eleven of the nation there are twenty-six that thus far have not lost a game, but only one of these, Northwestern, of Evanston, Ill., has kept its goal line inviolate. However, next Saturday Northwestern meets Notre Dame and South Bend eleven led by Knute Rockne generally smear themselves all over with goal-line chalk.

West Point to Play Boston

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 19.—The Cadet team was given a long black-board talk and a short limbering up session yesterday. Head Coach Jones announced that light work would also be the order for today. These light sessions, this week, are due to the fact that the game Saturday was harder than usual and Jones decided on a let-down, in view of the fact that the game with Boston University ought not to be a difficult problem for the Army team.

Both Trappnell and Elias, who injured in the game Saturday, will be out probably until the Notre Dame game, the middle of November. The loss of these two men will be a great blow to the Cadet team especially as regards the Yale game on October 30. Trappnell has been one of the Cadets' main hopes, especially because of his speed. He was also the Army's chief kicker, and that is the one thing in which the team has been weak both last year and this year. Elias was one of the two or three capable substitutes that the Cadets have. Hewitt, who was out of the game Saturday except for a few minutes, is much better today and is expected to be in good shape by Saturday.

While Jones is not counting on a hard game Saturday, yet he is expecting that the Boston team, under Reggie Brown and Robinson, will give the Cadet team a good stiff fight, especially since they have shown themselves to be a fine defensive team.

Jones plans to give as many substitutes as possible a chance in this game Saturday. He intends to rest his first-string men as much as possible between now and next week when he will start his preparations for the Yale game at New Haven.

The Army's chief weakness still seems to be the lack of a good forward pass defense. Jones plans to devote a great amount of time to that side of the Army game this week. There is no doubt that if the Army team does not improve in that respect, it will find itself greatly handicapped in the remaining games of the season. This is more evident than ever, after the result of the games on last Saturday when the three teams that the Army is yet to face—Yale, Notre Dame and the Navy—all showed great proficiency in the forward pass line. To hold their own with these three teams, the West Point eleven must show a hundred per cent improvement in their forward pass defense.

New Manager For Pirates

Pittsburgh, Oct. 19 (AP).—The Pittsburgh Pirates, rulers of the baseball world in 1925, dethroned this year by St. Louis, will be guided in 1927 by a new manager.

Bill McKechnie, who last year piloted the Corsairs to their first National League pennant in 16 years and then on through to a triumph over Washington in the world series, yesterday was told his services no longer would be required.

Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the club, said the fans had "lost confidence in McKechnie and there was only one thing to do." Although Dreyfuss said he had no successor in view at this time, baseball observers were inclined to believe Arthur Fletcher, ferry manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, might be found at the Pirate helm when the 1927 season opens. Rumors that Fred Clark, assistant manager and vice-president of the club, might be named, brought denial from Dreyfuss, who also made known his preference for a bench manager.

JOHNNY DUNDEE MEETS TOD MORGAN TONIGHT

San Francisco, Oct. 19 (AP).—Backed by the experience gained in 400 fights during his 17 years in the ring, Johnny Dundee of New York meets Tod Morgan here tonight in a ten round bout for the latter's junior lightweight crown.

Dundee has held the title for 130 pound fighters twice and on two occasions it has been toppled from his shoulders. Should he win tonight the veteran fighter would become the possessor of two titles. Dundee already is featherweight champion of the world, a title he vacated in 1924 by retirement after winning it the year before from the Frenchman, Eugene Criqui. Dundee came back a short time ago to claim his featherweight crown after Kid Kaplan relinquished it because of failure to make weight.

The champion has an advantage of 11 years in age, a longer reach, more speed and height. He is 22, against Dundee's 33, and measures 71 inches from Rager to finger tip. Dundee has a 66 inch reach.

Wheel of fortune operators are also skin specialists.

What is this "YELLOW MASK?"

LOOK at your teeth. Observe that they have a thin yellow tinge. No matter how often you brush it remains. You come to believe that yellowish hue is in the enamel—irremovable!

But the truth is you have teeth white as glistening ivory. That ugly, yellowish hue hides in a glassy mask that envelopes the teeth. This mask is known as Calculus. A "liquid cement" in your saliva forms it. Acts like a glue—first sticky, then hard. Ordinary dentifrices cannot efface it—they gloss right over it.

But now dental science can give you those lovely, pearly teeth—often in one brushing! For it has finally succeeded in incorporating in a tasty, pleasant tooth paste the one substance that positively removes Calculus—"Tri-Calculin Phosphate". This magic substance is what your dentist uses to clean teeth. And you know what beauty miracles he works with it!

The name of this new and finer tooth paste is ORPHOS. Dentists everywhere are recommending it—especially for teeth difficult to whiten. Please accept a 20-Time Tube FREE. Use coupon below. Convince yourself that teeth loveliness can now be yours.
